My Brilliant Friend: The Graphic Novel
$26

Diana: My Graphic Obsession $19.99

There are certain women in western popular culture that are so mythologized that you don't know fact from projection anymore. Diana is one of those examples and this book grapples with the moral question of how do we talk and make public art about people who have been harmed by fame historically. - Audrey

LOVE, YOUR CELEB BESTIE

Pageboy
$29.99

"A raw grappling with power, silence, and self-discovery, Elliot Page's memoir is a dazzling addition to transmasculine lit. Pageboy was a wonderful debut that leaves me hoping Elliot will continue to publish their writing." -Sea

The Woman in Me
$32.99

"Britney is my main pop girlie so of course I loved and devoured this. It is as much about her as it is about women's autonomy and intergenerational trauma. A really insightful memoir for both pop fans and feminists!" -Audrey

HISTORY

50 Years of Ms.: The Best of the Pathfinding Magazine That Ignited a Revolution $50

"I've been a Ms. reader since its earliest days. The magazine's bold, boundary-breaking reporting has motivated me, infuriated me, and inspired me.

And now this one extraordinary book--50 Years of Ms.--captures it all.

We are so lucky to have had visionaries at Ms. lighting the torch that's ignited generations of feminists."

--Jane Fonda, actor and activist

"This book will crack your gay heart open, break it, and make it new again. You won't be able to put down Gaunt and Ellwood's love story in the trenches of WW1. What I loved about this was it doesn't shy away from the horrors and realities of war while also being very critical of war as a concept." -Audrey

"James Frankie Thomas captured something so personal yet deeply, queerly universal with Idlewild. Teenagers are nasty, loving, silly, and so full of contradiction. Idlewild understands the subtelties that go along with discovering queerness and gender in your youth (specifically as a theater kid who reads fan fiction). You will fall in love with the core friendship and finish the book kinder and more loving to your younger self. -Audrey
